BANNERS REVEALED AT LIBRARY

Veterans banners going up on Main

By Bill Doak

Colorful banners lined the walls of the lower level of the East Hartford Public Library Wednesday, each featuring a portrait of an East Hartford member of the military - past, and present, trimmed in red, white and blue.

East Hartford veteran Brigitte Berner (USN- CT12) came up with the idea after seeing the banners go up in South Windsor and Manchester.

"I noticed and admired other towns I have passed through that have these banners."

'Supermarket sweep' to benefit food pantry

By Bill Doak

During a time of renewed focus on hunger and "food insecurity" an East Hartford couple are acting to do something fun about it: A Community Supermarket Sweep Contest.

Chris and Ashley Tierinni have been active in supporting the school-based backpack program for the past few years, a closet set aside in each elementary school stocked with canned goods and basic foodstuffs where teachers and school staff take heed to potential signs of hunger in their classroom, and can offer discrete access to food for students to take home on weekends.

Now they have enlisted the support of the East Hartford Lions Club and ShopRite to allow six teams to compete in a friendly, fun but timed "grocery games"-style contest Wednesday, May 21 at 6 p.m. at 31 Main St.

All are welcome to take part, either in a big way as a shopper, a sponsor or as a spectator.

"We came up with this idea as a way to both raise awareness about food insecurity in our town and a way to provide vital contributions to our town's local food pantry, all while having fun and fostering community spirit," said Chris Tierinni, a building contractor, Little League coach and candidate for political office a couple of times in East Hartford.

The way it works is six teams of 2-3 people each will be challenged to purchase a week's worth of groceries for $150. Judges will go through the shopping carts and the team which manages to purchase the most items will win.

PD gains POST-C accreditation

The accreditation process underscores the department's focus on transparency, accountability, and building trust within the community. It affirms a priority of best practices, enhancing both operational efficiency and public safety. DESDE LA ESQUINA

by Carmen Maldonado

Sembrando porque la piña esta agria

Con lo caro que esta todo hoy en día, muchas personas estas buscando la manera de ahorrar sin sacrificar su calidad de vida, y montar un jardín casero es una buena manera de al menos aliviar el bolsillo y buscarte un hobby. No hay que tener un mega terreno para hacer esto; con un pedacito de patio, un balcón o hasta unas latas viejas puedes comenzar a sembrar lo tuyo.

Imagínate no tener que comprar mas recaó, culantro, ajíes, o lechuga cada semana porque los tienes ahí mismo, fresquitos y sin químicos. Además, del ahorro en el bolsillo tienes la tranquilidad de saber que lo que estas comiendo lo sembraste tu.

Empezar es más fácil de lo que parece; puedes reutilizar botellas plásticas, cubetas o cajitas de madera como tiestos.

Las semillas las puedes sacar de los mismos vegetales que compras o conseguirlas en eventos como el Farmers Market que va a estar ocurriendo el 15 de Mayo en Hillstown Grange #87, 617 Hills St. De 4:00pm a 7:00pm. Eventos como este hay muchos por venir este verano. Así que este pendiente a esta columna que yo te aviso en cuanto me entere.

También puedes ir a la tienda y comprar los sobres de semillas o las plantas que no son tan caras para que te ayuden a comenzar este proyecto.

Si haces compost con los restos de cocina, como cáscaras y borra de café, ya tienes abono gratis.

Sembrar en casa es un acto de rebeldía y de amor: amor por tu salud, por tu familia y por este planeta que tanto nos da. Lo mejor es que, mientras cultivas, también te desconectas un poco del corre y corre del diario vivir.

Ver cómo crece una planta que tú mismo sembraste da una satisfacción brutal. Así que si estás buscando una forma práctica de enfrentar la economía como está, empieza tu jardín casero. Verás que no solo lo vas a sentir en el bolsillo, también en el corazón y si no, pues al menos conseguiste un hobby nuevo.

El 17 de mayo la ciudad de East Hartford está invitando a los residentes, negocios y miembros de la comunidad a unirse para un día de limpieza comunitario. El evento va a correr de 10:00am a 2:00pm. 'GOP tax cuts come at the expense of health care, SNAP and Medicaid'

Monday East Hartford Congressman John Larson lashed out at Republican House leaders for dismissing objections to a tax reduction bill as "not germane" to which Larson vehemently protested, stating "in this bill, what we find is that while the top percent gets the bulk of the tax cut, they pay for it, pay for it, by cutting people's health benefits," said Larson. "14 million Americans get [their health benefits cut], so that billionaires can have more. How much more money does Elon Musk need? 42 million Americans will see lower food assistance and SNAP benefits so that billionaires can have more."

Rep. Larson's full remarks:

"I don't know if you've ever had the opportunity, Mr. Chairman, to go to Augie and Ray's in East Hartford, but it's this incredible institution that's located right next to Pratt and Whitney aircraft and a shout out quickly to the IAM there who's on strike for fair wages. But you get real, practical, straightforward questions and answers from them, and they would be somewhat confused about this when you, for example, they don't talk a lot about germaneness. And when asked about and, you know, you heard the discussion at the beginning here that we had with regard to what would be ruled germane and what wouldn't. We'll see as we progress through the through the night, but basically germaneness here is what people really don't want to vote on.

"So whatever is put forward by this side of the aisle will not be deemed germane and therefore not voted on. And I guess the disheartening thing here is that, listen, everybody on this side of the aisle, they're good people. They're decent, caring Americans who love their country as much as we do, and that's what makes this so difficult. When you look at how disproportionate this bill is because what it is simply, fulfilling the Trump promise to make permanent the tax cut of 2017. But to do that, he charged Elon Musk with finding cuts.

"And so they look to 70% of the budget that includes Social Security and Medicare and defense and decide that's what they're going to do. And in this bill, what we find is that while the top percent gets the bulk of the tax cut, they pay for it, pay for it, by cutting people's health benefits. 14 million Americans get [their health benefits cut], so that billionaires can have more. How much more money does Elon Musk need? I guarantee you the billionaire class is embarrassed by what's being proposed here. The largest cut to Medicaid in its history.

"Imagine. 42 million Americans will see lower food assistance and SNAP benefits so that billionaires can have more.

I've had public hearings throughout my district, and Erin from Bristol who says she has no idea what she would do without Medicaid and SNAP. She's a wartime veteran and a single mother of four boys. This is who we're talking about, the people who will be directly impacted by this bill. You're good people.

"You know this, and yet we're going to persist and take this to a vote. Our amendments will be ruled non-germane, won't go forward, and you'll take this on to the floor. Catherine and Richard of Southington say, 'We have a 39-year-old son who was born intellectually disabled,' and asked me, 'If we cannot take care of the innocent in our society, how can we be called Christian?'

"Judith from Granby, who said, 'My daughter with MS asked, should Mr. Trump or his 1% cronies get more? My daughter and thousands of others do not need to suffer because of unbridled greed.' Can it be possible that MAGA really stands for 'Make America Greedy Again?'

Pack 61 'Touch-A-Truck' Sunday at EHHS

To the Editor and Our East Hartford Neighbors:

Cub Scout Pack 61 of East Hartford, of Scouting America, is overjoyed to announce that we will be holding a Touch-A-Truck event in East Hartford on May 18th from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. at East Hartford High School, 869 Forbes St.

This event will be the first of its kind in East Hartford.

Who are we? Pack 61 is the last Cub Scout Pack in East Hartford. Cub Scouts is a division of Scouting America for children of elementary school age, Kindergarten through fifth grade. Scouting America is a non-profit organization that runs solely from donations and registration fees of its members and is focused on enriching the lives of all children, from four years old through 18 years old.

As Cub Scout leaders, we offer a fun-filled curriculum for the children that teaches them different topics using a hands-on approach, which aids in information retention. All of the money raised through fundraising and annual Pack dues goes right back to the Scouts, to be used for trips, special events, awards, and anything else we may need to run a successful program.

We are holding this Touch-A-Truck event this Sunday to help revitalize Scouting in East Hartford and to hold a fun event for all to attend.

What is a Touch-A-Truck? A Touch-A-Truck is a community outreach event in which local businesses donate their time and use of one or more of their vehicles for the local community to see, learn about, and possibly even sit inside. This is a great opportunity for businesses to provide free marketing to the community, as well as engage with children (and adults) who get excited to see "big trucks" up close and personal.

If you have any questions, please reach out to us. E-mail us at: Pack61EastHartford@gmail.com Visit us on Facebook at: East Hartford Pack 61. Donations can be mailed to: Pack 61 of East Hartford, 944 Forbes St., East Hartford, CT 06118

State library gets funding back

The Connecticut State Library has been notified by the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) that its FY2024 federal grant in the amount of $2.16 million awarded under the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) Grants to States program has been reinstated, reversing its April 1 decision to terminate Connecticut's grant mid-year. IMLS also told the State Library it plans to issue a FY2025 LSTA award to Connecticut. IMLS provided no specific reason for either the initial termination or the reinstatement.

"Today, we are relieved that Connecticut residents can continue to rely on our vital library services a little longer," said Deborah Schander, State Librarian. "However, we remain cautious, as the President's proposed budget for FY2026 includes the full elimination of IMLS."

LSTA funds support many of its programs, including: early literacy and summer reading, support for veterans and military families, professional development for librarians and library staff, professional consultants, workforce development, interlibrary loan and resource sharing, digital connectivity and digital navigation.

Website notes fast-fading reminders of town's agrarian past: Barns

Did you know that there is a Connecticut website listing historic barns. Based on the same concept of designating historical mills and industrial complexes, Preservation Connecticut produced a 2025 site along with the State Historic Preservation Office and the Community Investment Act.

East Hartford is well represented on the historic mills site, and holds its own with 35 listings on the barn website (Connecticutbarns.org). Understandably the majority of East Hartford barns centered around the tobacco crop. Of the structures presented 14 clearly show a tobacco barn style, but East Hartford was also a farming community producing a variety of crops and dairy.

The website's intention is to highlight the state's remaining barns or carriage houses as many of these structures had been razed over the past century.

The website states: "Historic barns in Connecticut had been almost completely undocumented. As outbuildings, barns had rarely been included in National Register of Historic Places until the last decade when the total context of a historic site has been considered essential to historic significance.

With each barn that is lost another piece of the state's rich agricultural history disappears. The statewide survey took place from 2006-2010 and involved the participation of more than 400 volunteers all over Connecticut."

The site lists the barns under the following categories: Local Historic District; National Historic Landmark; National Register; and State Historic Resource Inventory.

Only one barn is on the state historic resource inventory. This is actually a pair of barns on Forbes Street listed as the Bansemer Farm. The site notes that these two barns date from

DID YOU KNOW?

Looking back at East Hartford

by Rob Kanehl

the 1800s, and have undergone a number of additions and renovations.

There are two structures on the National Register. They are both currently being used as residential garages. The first is on Central Avenue and was constructed as a barn, the other is on Garvan Street constructed as a carriage house.

All the rest of the 32 listed structures are from the team of volunteer historians who traveled around the state obtaining photos and information of existing barns. These other barns include the blacksmith shop in Martin Park overseen by the town's historical society.

The remaining 31 barns - carriage houses can be found throughout the town reflecting the fact that East Hartford historically was truly a farming community until well into the 1900s. The structures listed are as follows: 7 on Forbes Street; 6 on Silver Lane; 4 on King Street; 3 on Central Avenue; 2 each on Wells Street and Main Street; 1 each on High Street;

Gilman Street; Clement Street; Church Street; Bissell Street and Beaumont Street.

A grain of salt when researching the site. A listing appears of a structure out my backdoor with no other information. It was photographed by a volunteer from the road in 2010. No attempt was made to contact the owner, who gladly would provide the history of the parcel of land.

Also, the barn is not located at the address listed.

EAST HARTFORD SPORTS

Dallas wins the Cooper cup

Dallas has become the basketball capital of the world and the centerpiece this year is the same as a year ago.

Last year the college basketball world looked on as the nation's top high school player, Cooper Flagg, whittled his college choice to two perennial national powers, UConn and Duke. After visiting the Duke campus in North Carolina, without making a visit to Storrs, Flagg announced he would become a Blue Devil. It was a foregone conclusion he would be one and done at Cameron Indoor Stadium.

In making his announcement Flagg said he felt comfortable at Duke because everyone made him feel at home and made him feel like family. He would have had the same feeling if he visited UConn. He could have also had unlimited NIL money with Connecticut being among the first states to allow athletes to take advantage of NIL opportunities. Shed no tears. Flagg was more than adequately compensated with endorsement money as a college freshman.

The Mavericks landed the number one pick in the lottery and Flagg could have been more enthusiastic about the prospects of moving to Dallas. It will be interesting to see how the Mavs handle that pick. Number one picks today aren't nearly as needy as their predecessors, who didn't have the wide open legal spigot of money available to them in college. Flagg holds most of the cards.

The WNBA regular season tips off this weekend with all eyes on the Dallas Wings and #1 draft pick Paige Bueckers. Expectations are high for the UConn star who played no draft games with the Wings, signing a four year contract worth $350,000. WNBA salaries are chicken feed compared to the money today's college stars bring with them from campus.

UConn Athletic Director David Benedict recently petitioned the state legislatures Higher Education and Employment Advancement Committee to further review an NCAA plan expected to be instituted this fall to allow schools themselves to directly compensate student athletes to settle a multi-billion dollar settlement for loss of NIL opportunities on behalf of student athletes.

On the national level President Trump, in an effort to standardize NIL compensations, proposed a presidential commission on college athletics. NCAA president Charlie Baker responded, "The fact there's an interest on the executive side of this speaks to the fact everybody is paying a lot of attention right now to what's going on in college sports. I'm up for anything that can help us get somewhere." ACC Commissioner Jim Phillips echoed Baker's optimism that the proposed commission can create a national NIL standard. "We need to have something that comes out of Washington that connects all 50 states", Phillips told the ACC Network, "Because we've had a piecemeal project that has really undermined college sports. We do need some help at some point to create some clarity around some of these issues."

With the "House Settlement" bill set to take effect in the fall, allowing schools to use their own resources to compensate athletes national standardization is the best way to insure everyone is playing on a level field.

Mixed results for Hornets

The East Hartford High School baseball team had been showing signs of improvement as the season progressed, but that seemed to take a step back Wednesday after they dropped a 15-5 decision to East Catholic at McKenna Field here in town.

The Hornets were coming off an efficient 5-1 victory Tuesday on the road against E. O. Smith after falling 6-2 on Monday to Tolland in a busy three days following rainy weather. Last week EHHS was edged out in a one-run loss at home to Windsor, 5-4. Those games were a vast improvement from the contests against Glastonbury and South Windsor, and a sign Hornet hopes were rebounding. EHHS baseball stands at 5-11 on the year with five of the team's 11 losses coming on the road.

East Catholic's win bumped their record up to 12-4.

East Hartford faces Cheney Tech in a 6 p.m. contest Friday.

The Chargers are on a roll and will be fired up looking for their seventh straight victory. East Hartford will be defending its home field once again.

BRIAN COLLINS INDUCTED INTO HALL OF FAME

EAST HARTFORD'S OWN BRIAN COLLINS, who dedicated 25 years to shaping young athletes as the head coach of Glastonbury Girls Cross-Country and Track & Field, has earned a well-deserved place in the Connecticut High School Coaches Association Hall of Fame, Class of 2025. Throughout his impressive tenure, Collins not only fostered a love for running that extended into collegiate careers and beyond but also amassed a winning record across all three seasons, culminating in this prestigious recognition. He was celebrated alongside ten other accomplished inductees from across the state at a ceremony held May 8 at the Aqua Turf Club in Southington. Pictured, from left are Len Corto, CHSCA Executive Director; Babby Nuhn, CHSCA Hall of Fame Committee Chair; Collins, and Bill Vanderrest, President CHSCA.

Goats win 1-0 in 11 innings behind Gabriel Hughes' effort

Dyan Jorge put down a sacrifice bunt that allowed the game-winning run to score as the Hartford Yard Goats defeated the Binghamton Rumble Ponies 1-0 in 11 innings on Tuesday night at Dunkin' Park. The game was scoreless heading to the bottom of the 11th before Jorge's sacrifice bunt was fielded but thrown into right field allowing the automatic runner Bryant Betancourt to score the only run of the game. Yard Goats starter Gabriel Hughes had his second perfect outing of the season, retiring fifteen consecutive batters and striking out three in five innings. The Rumble Ponies did not have a hit until the seventh inning. The Yard Goats are now 11-5 at Dunkin' Park.

Yard Goats starting pitcher

Gabriel Hughes was outstanding on the mound and lowered his ERA to 1.99 with five shutout innings. He retired all 15 batters faced with three strikeouts, including Mets infielder Ronny Mauricio who is on a MLB rehab assignment with Binghamton. Hughes left a scoreless game after five innings. The game was scoreless through 10 innings.

OBITUARIES

Frank Perrone, 88; Habitat for Humanity volunteer, St. Joseph Medal awardee

Frank Perrone, 88, loving husband of Joan (Millette) Perrone, peacefully entered into eternal rest on May 7. Born in Hartford November 7, 1936, he lived in Hartford until the family moved to Wilton when Frank was a teenager. Frank is predeceased by parents Peter and Mary (Pandozzi) Perrone, sisters Concetta (Perrone) Melo and Therese (Perrone) Benedetto, aunts and uncles.

After marrying Joan, the love of his life, they lived in Hartford then moved to East Hartford in 1962.

Frank loved music, especially classical and liturgical. He was a member of several choirs, including the choir of the Cathedral of St. Joseph for over twenty years. Frank received his Associates Degree in Accounting from the University of Hartford, and was employed as a General Accountant until he retired.

He was lovingly known as "Mr. Fixit" by family and friends. He rarely threw anything away, always finding ways to repair or repurpose something. He was a giver, not a taker, always available to offer his assistance to anyone who needed it. He volunteered with Homefront, Habitat for Humanity, and many other civic projects. He was a communicant at St. Christopher

Frank Perrone

Church and was active in the parish. In 2024, Both he and Joan were honored by the Archdiocese of Hartford with the St. Joseph Award of Appreciation, the highest parish level award that can be given to a lay person, for their long-standing dedication and service to his parish. He was a member of the finance council for both the church and school, treasurer for the church social club, and most recently, an altar server - something he had wanted to do since childhood. He was an avid fan of UConn Women's basketball and was active in the Boy Scouts of America and was proud to have been in the Order of the Arrow. He was a great example of what a scout should be.

In addition to his wife, Frank leaves three children: Cathy Welskopp (Dave), Thomas Perrone (Melinda), Diane Troy (Andy); four grandchildren: Kyle and Ryan Smith (Cassie) and Claire and Timothy Perrone; two great-grandchildren: Savannah and Carson Smith, and two special family friends: Donna Daigneault and Patricia Berkery. The world has lost a genuinely decent, caring person. May he find rest and peace in the arms of God. The family would like to extend their sincere gratitude to the staff of Autumn Lake Rehabilitation Facility in New Britain for the care, love, and compassion shown to Frank and his family, and all of the nurses and personnel at AccentCare, who helped to make Frank's final journey as peaceful as possible.

On May 23, there will be a gathering in the hall of St. Christopher Church, from 9 a.m.-10:15 followed by a Mass of Christian burial at 10:30. Following light refreshments in the church hall, burial services will take place at Mt. St. Benedict Cemetery, Bloomfield at 12:30 p.m.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in Frank's name to The Boy Scouts of America, or The National Kidney Foundation.

Eileen (Coughlin) Burnham, 98

It is with deep sadness that we announce the passing of Eileen (Coughlin) Burnham, beloved mother of Maureen Rodgers of Old Saybrook, Patricia Rodgers of Ellington and Gigi Tappan of Pembroke, MA, who passed away peacefully at the age of 98 at Yale New Haven Hospital on May 10, 2025 after a sudden illness.

A proud mother of three girls, Eileen was a strong, independent woman who provided love and support to Maureen, Patty and Gigi throughout their lives, and they are forever grateful to her.

Eileen was born on September 25, 1926 to Mary Ann (Flannery) Coughlin and Martin J. Coughlin who were Irish immigrants. Her siblings, James M. Coughlin, Gerald L. Coughlin and Lillian M. Hanley, predeceased her.

Eileen attended Southwest Grammar School and Bulkeley High School in Hartford. Attending the Class of 1944 reunions brought Eileen much joy. After graduation, Eileen attended Hillyer College but opted to go to work at Aetna Life Insurance Company to start earning money instead of completing her college education. Prior to her retirement, Eileen worked for 10 years at the State of Connecticut, Department of Transportation.

In 1978, Eileen married Robert (Bud) Burnham after meeting him at a wedding where he asked her to dance, and the rest is history. Eileen enjoyed being a farmer's wife working at the Burnham Farm Stand selling vegetables on Main Street in East Hartford. Her friends and extended family especially enjoyed her "famous" whiskey cake and mint brownies. Eileen and Bud enjoyed spending time at their condo at Sterling Village in Boynton Beach, Florida until Bud's passing in 2004. At Sterling Village Eileen served as President of the Arts and Crafts Club, played bocce, sang in the Sterling Village Chorus and enjoyed walking up and down the intercoastal walkway trying to get her 2,000 steps in at age 98.

Eileen was a Charter Member of the East Hartford Women's Democratic Club and was a Life Member of the Irish American Home Society.

Eileen enjoyed her three trips to Ireland where she visited her aunts, uncles and many cousins. She celebrated many of her birthdays with her daughters with special trips that included New York City, Niagara Falls, and Charleston.

In addition to her three girls, Eileen leaves to mourn her passing three grandchildren: Gregory W. Tappan, Brianna L. Marchioni and her husband, Michael, and Alyssa M. Tappan. She also leaves Paul Klager, her nieces and nephews and their spouses: Maryann and Jeff Lindquist, Kathleen Hanley, Thomas Hanley, Jr., Joanne and David White, Donald W. House, Jr., and Rosemary and Alain Munkittrick.

Eileen was fortunate to live a long and healthy life. She enjoyed her weekly setback nights, attending political functions and all of the activities at the East Hartford Senior Center with her wonderful friend, Dolores Kehoe, who provided friendship to Eileen and her family. Her family is also forever grateful to Donna and David Burnham of East Hartford for looking out for Eileen over the years that she lived next door on Old Main Street.

Calling hours will be held on Thursday, May 15, 2025 from 3 to 6 p.m. at D'Esopo East Hartford Memorial Chapel, 30 Carter St. Mass of a Christian Burial will be Friday, May 16, at 10 a.m. at North American Martyrs Parish, St. Mary's Church, 15 Maplewood Ave. Burial will be at the convenience of the family. OBITUARIES

Jane Clark Landry, 93

Jane Landry

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of our beloved mom, Jane Clark Landry, May 6, 2025, at the age of 93. Mom passed peacefully at her home in Glastonbury, CT.

Born June 21, 1931, Jane was the beloved daughter of the late Kenneth Grant Clark and Dorothy Bidwell Clark of East Hartford, CT. Jane was the devoted and loving wife of the late Clifford A. Landry, Jr., who passed away in 2002.

Jane grew up in East Hartford and graduated from East Hartford High School, Class of 1948. Jane and Cliff were high school sweethearts.

In mom's youth, she enjoyed summers vacationing in Gent, NY, on her cousin's farm and at her aunt's oceanside cottage in Clinton.

Upon high school graduation, Jane began working at the Twin Hartford's Insurance Company, now known as The Hartford Insurance Company. From there, she turned her attention to Cliff and on Flag Day, June 14, 1952, they were married at the East Hartford Congregational Church.

Jane and Cliff often talked of their fond memories living as a married couple on the campus of Springfield College. After graduating, they moved to Berlin, CT, where they raised their family, while her husband was the Berlin High School Vice Principal and football coach. Mom was always there to support dad and the team.

Family was always the most important part of her life. Mom lovingly cooked and baked for her family; hand picked apples and blueberries for her pies were among the favorites. Beyond the kitchen, gardening was a favorite pastime.

As her children grew, Jane began a 25-year career as a Unit Coordinator at New Britain General Hospital.

In Jane and Cliff's leisure, they loved to travel; favorite trips included an Alaskan cruise, a Hawaiian vacation on Oahu, the Bahamas and Bermuda, and enjoyed camping and boating with their family and grandchildren.

We will always remember mom as a gracious, kindhearted Christian; greatly loved and deeply missed.

Jane leaves behind her loving children, daughter and son-in-law Nancy Sylvester and Dr.

Russell Sylvester, Jr., of Farmington, her son and daughter-in-law (Ret.) Captain Mark H. Landry, USCG and (Ret.) Rear Admiral Mary E. Landry, USCG of Bonita Springs, FL, and her son Jeffrey C. Landry of Glendale, AZ. Her cherished grandchildren, Michael Landry and his wife Jill, Katelyn Landry, Allison Sylvester and Sarah Sylvester. Her adoring great-grandchildren Jack and Madelyn Jane Landry. Her sister-in-law Frances Landry Terasse and her husband Bob of Marlborough, CT, dear cousins, nephews, and nieces.

In addition to her parents and husband, she was predeceased by her brother David Clark and his wife MaryJo of Maryland, her sister-in-law and brother-in-law Dorothy Landry Weaver and George Weaver of Vineyard Haven, MA.

To mom's friends and neighbors, a heartfelt thank you for your unwavering support and thoughtfulness. A special thank you to mom's caregiver, Priscilla Asante.

ners. It makes me feel like it's a community that cares, and takes the time and effort to highlight their special hometown heroes."

Wednesday she explained how, in the Navy she learned "never be first to volunteer for anything." Berner served as a cryptologist (she speaks fluent Russian). "So naturally here I am," she noted of her role of volunteering to coordinate the banner effort. "I presented the idea to the town's Veteran's Commission. Naturally, they said, 'go with it, Brigitte. So once again, here I am.'"

She had help and Mayor Connor Martin and his staff were quickly on board. Ekaterine Tchelidze, Mayor Connor Martin's chief of staff, coordinated the effort to get sponsors for the banners at $200 each.

The Gold Star banners and banners for someone who has just enrolled are free of charge from the banner company. East Hartford's Frank J. Tedone, whose remains were interred in Arlington National Cemetery April 23 after just being identified 81 years after being shot down on a bombing mission in Burma in 1943, has a banner ready to go up in his hometown. He graduated from East Hartford High School in 1941.

The East Hartford VFW post purchased 15 banners immediately for members, as did town hall departments with military members, such as the police department. The rest of the banners were purchased by family members, the newly-homed World War II Legacy Foundation Museum at 102 Pitkin St. The 24x48-inch double-sided banners will go up next week on Main Street and remain there until Veterans Day in November, then will be given to the families or sponsors.

Wednesday many of the veterans honored showed up where Berner and Tchelidze presented each with a handsome plaque by Discount Trophy engraved with their name and the photo on the banner.

The veterans congratulated one another as they posed for photos next to their banner. Veteran Frank Forest got a big cheer from his granddaughter when he went up to collect his plaque. Retired Korean War veteran Jim Shelmerdine and Synergy school technology teacher Steve Sokolosky, who surprised his son with a banner, chatted, Jim Futtner posed for photos and Richard Bates stood next to his much younger self, smiling for the camera.

"After the banners are taken down we will clean and give them to the sponsors to display or give to the veteran or their family," explained Berner. "Then, hopefully next year we will do this all over again."
