ARMISTICE DAY AT THE DOUGHBOY

TOWN VETERANS gathered following a wreath-laying ceremony November 11 at 11 a.m. at the base of 'Ready', the statue on the Raymond Library lawn honoring those who died in The Great War 104 years ago. The bell of First Congregational Church sounded 19 times in honor of the 19 from East Hartford named on the base.

Bell ringers to unofficially open Wickham Library

Details of Town Hall moving plan

After years of wear and tear, the renovation of the East Hartford Town Hall is now necessary to replace essential mechanical systems in the 86-year-old building that have exceeded their useful life expectancy. The goal of the project is to provide Town Hall visitors and personnel a safe, revitalized, and sustainable environment to conduct the business of the town.

Tuesday evening the Town Council heard an update on the moving plans from Connor Martin, Mayor Mike Walsh's chief of staff and one of the coordinators of the move and renovation estimated to cost $21.6 million using federal American Rescue Plan Act funding. The scope of work includes the replacement of the heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) systems, modernization of the elevator, new lighting, plumbing and electrical infrastructure, and a new roof.

Among other improvements with environmental benefits is a new natural gas heating system to replace the existing and inefficient oil-burning boilers. Also planned are repairs to the front entrance, replacement of water-damaged ceilings and walls, abatement of hazardous materials, and renovation of the public bathrooms.

Please know, the project scope includes the temporary relocation of Town departments within Town Hall. All Town departments will temporarily relocate to the Community Cultural Center at 50 Chapman Place for the duration of construction, except for the Town Clerk's Office, which will move to a temporary office in front of Town Hall to enable continued access to the Town vault.

Additionally, the Social Services Department will permanently move to the Community Cultural Center at 50 Chapman Place in December of 2022 as part of this project.

The relocation of Town departments to the Community Cultural Center will take place in phases starting in mid-December, 2022 and continuing into early January, 2023. Construction work at Town Hall will begin on January 9, 2023 and will conclude mid-January, 2024.

All Town Hall departments will be relocated to a temporary office space for the duration of the renovation project. Town Hall departments will occupy "temporary swing space" on the lower level of the Community Cultural Center located at 50 Chapman Place. The Town Clerk's office will remain at Town Hall located at 740 Main Street in a temporary trailer located in front of Town Hall.

Town departments unaffected by the renovations project include Police, Fire, Public Works, Library, EH Works, Youth Services, WIC and the Parks & Recreation departments. These departments will

Police collar suspect in Park Avenue murder

A 21-year-old suspect in a Park Avenue murder cut the GPS monitor off his ankle that would have alerted his probation officer that he was confined at home.

Mekhi Thompson took was arrested by East Hartford police after a chase that led them into Hartford. Thompson had two active arrest warrants for failing to appear in court.

According to prosecutors, he is a suspect in the killing of 28-year-old Devonte Gardner in East Hartford back in September.

A spokesperson for the probation department tells us Thompson cut off his GPS monitor the same day as the murder.

The department spokesperson says the officer in charge of his case was immediately notified.

The I-Team looked into Thompson's record, and found he previously served time in prison, after pleading guilty to assault in the first degree back in 2020.

The assault came after police arrested Thompson for his part in a 2019 triple shooting in Hartford.

According to the Department of Corrections, Thompson was sentenced to three years in prison and released on April 5th 2022.

Thompson violated probation in July, was put on 24/7 electronic monitoring, and fitted with a GPS bracelet according to probation.

GPS allows probation officers to monitor and track an individual's movement in the community.

According to probation, GPS can determine with "relative accuracy, the location of the individual."

A spokesperson says GPS supervision is typically used if there is a victim safety concern.

When we asked if the material of the bracelet was easy to cut off we were told "it's not easy, but it's doable. That's why notification is immediate."

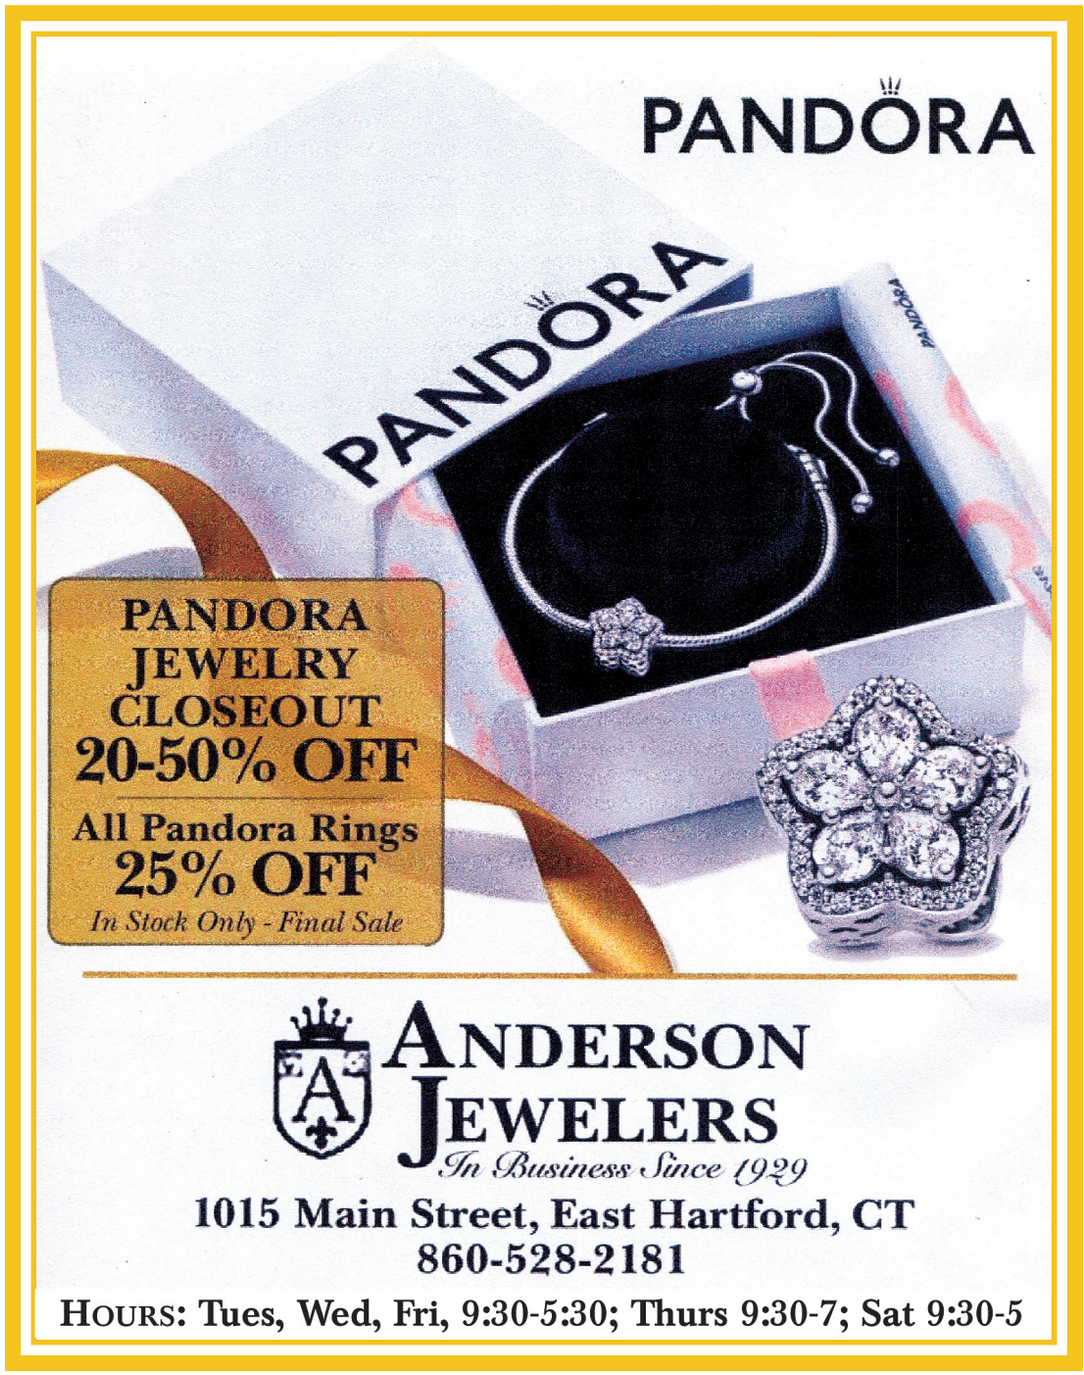

In April, 2019 he was arrested in connection with the triple shooting late Tuesday night near a part just off Albany Avenue in Hartford.

Mekhi Thompson, 18, was charged with three counts of first-degree assault, one count first-degree conspiracy to commit assault and for carrying a pistol without a permit.

Three men were wounded when gunfire erupted at about 10:20 p.m. Tuesday near the corner of Brook and Fairmount streets. All three were wounded in the shooting. Patrol officers on foot nearby heard the shots when they rang out and saw several victims running through the basketball courts at the playground between Bedford and Brook streets behind the Wilson-Gray YMCA Youth and Family Center. Major Crimes Division investigators later identified Thompson as a suspect in the shooting and obtained an arrest warrant, Cicero said.

He was located during an unrelated narcotics investigation and arrested.

He was heldfor the 2019 case in lieu of $750,000 bond.

OPINIONS - LETTERS - SPEAKING OUT!

Paul Mounds departs from Gov.'s staff

Governor Ned Lamont announced that when he begins his second term in office early next year, two administrative changes will occur within the senior leadership of the Office of the Governor, including the appointment of Jonathan Dach as chief of staff and Natalie Braswell as general counsel.

East Hartford's Paul Mounds, Jr., who has served as the governor's chief of staff since February 2020, and Nora Dannehy, who has served as his general counsel since March 2021, have each chosen to step down from their respective roles within the office to pursue new professional opportunities. Both Mounds and Dannehy decided that the conclusion of the governor's first term would be an appropriate time for them to make the change.

"During my first term in office, one thing that immediately became clear is how critical the roles of chief of staff and general counsel are when it comes to providing effective leadership as governor, and I will forever be thankful to Paul Mounds and Nora Dannehy for the time, dedication, guidance, and excellence that they have given to me and to the people of Connecticut," Governor Lamont said. "I am fully aware that these roles require a 24/7 commitment, often at the expense of personal lives and relationships, and both Paul and Nora have gone above and beyond what their duties required. I've worked alongside Jonny and Natalie for quite some time now, and they both have the experience and proficiency to fill these roles with a seamless transition. I am confident their shared good judgment, collaborative approach, wide-ranging expertise, and ferocious work ethic will be a benefit to our administration as we continue focusing on our core mission of growing our economy, adding jobs, streamlining government, and serving the people of Connecticut."

Immediately prior to becoming chief of staff, Mounds served as Governor Lamont's chief operating officer.

"Working for Governor Lamont and the amazing professionals in this administration has been a career highlight, and I thank him for entrusting me with this important leadership and management role at this critical moment in our state's history," Mounds said. "The people who work in Connecticut state government are an incredibly dedicated group of professionals and it has been an honor to serve with them. I have all the confidence in Jonathan Dach, who has been a stalwart leader for Governor Lamont in his first term and is ready and prepared like no other to take on the role of chief of staff. I thank Governor Lamont for his trust in me, and I congratulate him on being elected to a second term in office."

"It has been a privilege to serve the people of Connecticut in my capacity as general counsel to the Office of the Governor," Dannehy said. "I appreciate the confidence that Governor Lamont showed in appointing me to this position, and I wish him all the best in his second term. I also am confident that the general counsel position is in good hands with Natalie's appointment."

Dach currently serves as Governor Lamont's policy director, a position he has held since the start of the governor's first term on January 9, 2019. In that capacity, he has worked with commissioners, legislators, and subject-matter experts inside and outside state government to deliver on Governor Lamont's priorities, including the new paid family and medical program, a sustainable unemployment insurance system, and aspects of the state's COVID-19 preparedness, response, and recovery. Prior to joining the Lamont campaign and administration, he clerked for Judge Rowan D. Wilson of the New York Court of Appeals and served as senior policy advisor to the Ambassador-at-Large for Global Women's Issues at the U.S. Department of State. A Washington, D.C. native and longtime New Haven resident, he earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in ethics, politics, and economics from Yale College in 2008 and a Juris Doctor from Yale Law School in 2013.

"I'm incredibly proud to be part of Governor Lamont's administration and to serve the people of Connecticut," Dach said. "I believe in our state, in Governor Lamont's vision for its future, and in government's ability to make a meaningful difference in people's lives. The governor's made that difference for the last four years, and I know he will spend the next four continuing to expand growth and opportunity for all."

Braswell currently serves as state comptroller in a position that she began Dec. 31, 2021, following the resignation of former Comptroller Kevin Lembo who stepped down due to a serious medical condition. From March 2021 until being appointed by Gov. Lamont as comptroller, Braswell was the chief of planning, legal, and regulatory affairs at the CT Dept. of Energy and Environmental Protection (DEEP).

EAST HARTFORD SPORTS

Huskies win, and erase the past

If you don't know history you're condemned to repeat it. This week a lesson about history that shouldn't be repeated.

Thirteen years ago the UCONN football team claimed the biggest win in program history when Dave Teggart kicked a game ending 42 yard field goal to give the Huskies a 29-27 win at South Florida, the Big East championship and the schools only BCS bowl bid, a trip to the Fiesta Bowl, capping the fastest rise ever for a college football program.

SCOTT GRAY on SPORTS

by Scott Gray

Apologies to Jim Calhoun and Geno Auriemma, there was suddenly a new Big Man on Campus, or should have been. Regardless of their success basketball programs at any university can only go as far as football leads them. Football drives the bus. At UCONN the man driving that bus was Randy Edsall, who guided UCONN from the lowly ranks of division 1-AA to a top 20 ranking in the high powered world of BCS football. He sat alone in the front of the plane on the flight home from Tampa. Athletic director Jeff Hathaway never walked up the aisle to congratulate Edsall on the biggest UCONN football win ever.

Back in Storrs Edsall returned to his office at the beautiful on campus football training facility to prepare for the biggest UCONN football game ever. Hathaway returned to his office at Gampel Pavilion, across the street.

Hathaway should have crossed that street, knocked on Edsall's door and said, "Congratulations on the South Florida win. I'll leave you alone to prepare for the Fiesta Bowl, then we'll sit down over a contract that reflects your status as the most important coach on campus."

Hathaway was afraid of insulting his high powered basketball coaches. Edsall, shunned by his own A.D., pursued greener pastures, where he would no longer be a football coach at a basketball school. For more than a decade UCONN football floundered. Until now.

Playing as a 1-A independent, beyond the arrival of Jim Mora, a coach with a winning pedigree, UCONN had little reason for optimism. Recruiting at the two-star, three-star level and relying heavily on the recruiting portal, the Huskies faced a daunting schedule dotted with ranked teams that scheduled UCONN as an automatic win. Optimistic predictions called for three victories.

Last Saturday at Rentschler Field the Huskies earned bowl eligibility by knocking off 19th ranked Liberty, the win that now becomes the most important in Husky history, setting UCONN up as an attractive option for Power 5 leagues already looking to fill sixteen team footprints. The right win at the right time, just in the nick of time.

David Benedict's not likely to make the same mistake Jeff Hathaway made 13 years ago. Mora was Benedict's man all along. He went to great lengths to lure him to Storrs. Rest assured he'll give him some breathing room to prepare for the next two games, Army and a bowl game, but he will not let him get away. History will not repeat itself.

That's the best news UCONN athletics has had since losing Randy Edsall to Maryland.

Husky defense snuffs Flames

In a back-and-forth battle replete with big penaties and big plays, UConn snuffed out No. 19 Liberty Flames 36-33 to improve its record to 6-5 - the first time the team has been above .500 since 2015.

Miami, Fla. Freshman Zion Turner connected with Canadian Kevens Clercius on a 30-yard post route in the end zone to bring Connecticut back from a 28-33 deficit in the fourth quarter, and the Huskie's defense found the will to hold Liberty at bay for the win.

Being 6-5 equates to bowl-eligiblity with one game remaining on UConn's idependent FBS schedule: Army at West Point, NY. First-year coach Jim Mora told the team in the locker room "6 is a nice number, but I like 7 better."

It is a remarkable spot to be in after the Huskies managed just one victory last season. Besides Liberty, UConn did it with wins over Fresno State and New England rival Boston College - and they did it with style. The team, which lost its starting quarterback in the first quarter of the first game of 2022, has been the underdog in every game. Another one of those key players hurt in the first game of the year with a broken collarbone came in after Turner's go-ahead TD and caught a two-point conversion to keep the Connecticut lead at a field goal. Keelan Marion's one reception in the game was huge for the team as well as the score.

QB Turner finished 15-of-21 with 103 yards. Running back Robert Burns led UConn's rushers with 104 yards on 11 carries and one TD. Running back Victor Rosa finished with 62 yards on 10 carriers and two TDs.

Liberty uses a hurry-up offense to great effect, and soon Connecticut seemed to embrace the same pace. The lead changed hands multiple times in the fourth. Rosa ran with added effort after Connecticut found itself trailing. He bounced off a number of defenders and scampered 27 yards for a TD that gave the Huskies a 28-27 lead. On the next play, Liberty regained the lead 33-28 when Demario Douglas raced 75 yards for a score.

TJ Green led Liberty (8-2) with 119 yards rushing on 24 carries and a touchdown. Quarterback Jackson Bennett went 22 for 36 for 201 yards and a TD.

UConn running back Victor Rosa finds the end zone Saturday for one of his two touchdowns at Rentschler Stadium.

Burns returned the opening kickoff to midfield. UConn reached the end zone eight plays later, with Rosa scoring from 16 yards out. Turner was perfect on the drive, connecting with Aaron Turner four times for 29 yards, including twice on third down.

The Huskies' defense also did their part, intercepting Bennett once and with two sacks in the first half, including one by Eric Watts that resulted in a touchdown. Linebacker Jackson Mitchell scooped up a fumble by Kaidon Salter and returned it 32 yards for a 14-3 lead.

Despite trailing twice by double digits, the Flames seized momentum in the second quarter when linebacker Ahmad Walker picked off Turner near midfield. Malik Caper bulldozed his way into the end zone eight plays later, cutting the deficit to 21-17 with 35 seconds left before halftime. Liberty then grabbed its first lead on a Green 1-yard run, capping a seven-play, 80-yard drive to begin the second half.

Liberty's other loss this season was to Top 25-ranked Wake Forest in September.

EH Hornets send three teams to playoffs Sunday

The East Hartford Hornets are off to the Championship! That's right, all levels made it through the season fighting through their blood, sweat, and tears. Our A-Team, C-Team and Mighty Mites came out with an undefeated record. B-Team, however, ensured their spot on the Champions roster with an exceptional 8-2 record, beating North Branford's undefeated team. Unfortunately, the Mighty Mites will be cheering for us on the sidelines, since they do no participate in the Championship. As we hit the turf this coming Sunday, November 20th at Rocky Hill High School we encourage all to come out and support. We come to the field with no fear as our previous score board speaks for itself. A-Team advanced with a dominant win of 40 - 0, B- Team win 28 - 0, and C-Team 29 - 0. Come out and support our young men next week- 9:00am C-Team, 11:30am B-Team, and 2:00pm A-Team. Let's go Hornets!

Mary E. (DelRocco) Tamiso

She also was a loyal fan of the New York Yankees and New England Patriots. Howard Paul Wilmes, 79

Howard Paul Wilmes of East Hartford, 79, passed away unexpectedly Sunday, Nov. 13, 2022. Born Oct. 8, 1943, Howard was the son of the late Howard J. Wilmes and Mary (McLean) Wilmes of Pittsburgh, PA, and had resided in East Hartford for the past 47 years.

He is survived by his wife of 51 years, Barbara (Roadman) Wilmes, his two sons, Matthew and his wife Sunny (Gibson), Michael and his wife Elizabeth (McNamara) all of West Hartford; his sister, Mary Ann (Wilmes) Wigham and her husband Nathan of Pittsburgh, PA. He also leaves behind his beloved nephews and nieces, Stephanie (Roadman) Skillen and her husband Ed of Naples, FL, Stephen Roadman and his wife Amy of Nashville, TN, Scott Roadman of Naples, FL, Heather (Kuester) Grass and her husband Jeff of St. Louis, MO, Ronnie Kuester and wife Lucy of St. Louis, MO, Jessica Strachan of Pittsburgh, PA

Nothing gave Howard more pride and joy than his grandchildren (who he spoiled as grandparents do). He rarely missed a game they played in, dance recitals or concerts they performed in. He takes with him his love and devotion to Bree, Emma, Cameron, Johnny and Benny.

Howard grew up in Pittsburgh in the glow of the mills and the rush of the rivers. He was immensely proud of where he came from and told tales of his days on the street cars and inclines, his family houses and combing the area with his family on his famous "tours". He was an avid sports fan growing up rooting for the Pittsburgh Steelers and New York Yankees. Gathering for Steelers games with his family or at the Ad's Fan Club was one of his favorite things to do. He loved all the people he came to know at Ad's as family. While his boys didn't share the same love of the Yankees, they did get his passion for baseball. A bond was formed in the rivalry of Red Sox/Yankees that was fun every summer.

Anyone who knows Howard knows he was a man of many words. He loved to chat up anyone near him and always sought some common ground to talk. He was a long time member of the East Hartford Elks and formed close friendships that lasted many years. He loved to go on walks around town and visit local establishments like Elmwood Bakery in West Hartford and Mozzicato's in Hartford to enjoy a cup of coffee and talk with friends and staff. His work took him around the world where he had the chance to see cultures that many didn't. He had experienced so much that he always had a story for any occasion. But in his later years he found his joy and love taking his grandkids to the beach and watching them play in the sand or to Bills Seafood for a late lunch on the water. He was their biggest cheerleader in the stands and the loudest ovation in the crowds.

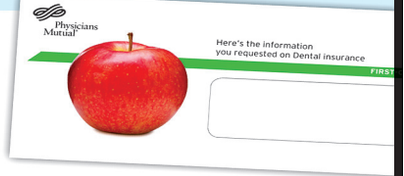

Howard Wilmes

He would pop into our houses, leave cookies in the door, or during times of COVID, talk through the window just to see his family as much as he could.

Those who knew him longest heard all the stories, had the poorly timed pop-ins, the extended stays when you wanted to wrap up and the spoiling of children when you asked him not too. Those who knew him would love to hear it one more time, one more knock on the door, to find him asleep on the couch or find a bag of cookies in the door again. He will be missed dearly and loved eternally.

Funeral service will be Saturday, Nov. 19 with Mass of Christian Burial at noon at St. Christopher Church of St. Edmund Campion Parish, 538 Brewer St. Burial will follow at Holy Cross Cemetery, (Section 3), Hebron Avenue, Glastonbury.

The family asks that everyone please go directly to the church on Saturday. Howard's family will receive relatives and friends on Friday (November 18, 2022) from 3 – 6 pm at the D'Esopo East Hartford Memorial Chapel, 30 Carter Street, East Hartford. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions in Howard's name may be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, 501 St. Jude Place, Memphis, TN 38105.
